HAYTI — MISSOURI

Bragg City News.

Mrs. J. W. Yarbrow visited Mrs. Burnett at Pascola Sunday.

Brother Clark of Matthews, the pastor of the church here, filled his regular appointments Saturday and Sunday nights.

Bragg City is getting busy. The streets are being graded and we are going to have a nice little village.

We spread dinner on the ground at school on Arbor Day and every child had a part on the program. There were several visitors in the afternoon and all seemed to enjoy themselves.

J. W. Yarbrow has moved back to Bragg City from Senath and has put in a store in the brick building on the west side of the square. He also has a soda fountain.

Burt Roberts has gone to St. Louis for a while.

Mrs. T. V. Schoonover paid Memphis a visit recently.

There was a dance at Blocker's hall Friday night. They had a band from Kennett and everything went along nicely till the "white mule" came stumbling through the hall.

We have a new town board. J. M. Williams was elected mayor.

Mrs. J. M. Williams went over to Caruthersville last Friday on business.

We have a good Sunday school at the Union church, with nice little classes. Last Sunday there were 29 in the card class, 25 in the junior class and 15 in the Bible class, and each is working for the banner.

Mr. Editor, if you are fond of "poke salt," come over, for there is enough for the Hayti people, too.

School was dismissed all day on election day.

We still have shows at Bragg City from one to three times a week. —ROSEBUD.

(The Missouri Herald appreciates Rosebud's items very much, and is glad to learn the country there is green with "poke salt." That ought to help tide over these Harding hard times. Believing in passing a good thing along, we would also direct the attention of the editor of the Owl City News to this wonderful opportunity to annex a square meal by merely performing the Nebucadnezzar act.—Editor)

The High school play, "Nothing But the Truth," drew a good audience to the auditorium last Friday night. The pupils in the play acquitted themselves creditably, showing the efficient training by Mrs. Wells and others in charge.

Ingram Ridge News.

We had quite a large attendance at Sunday school Sunday. The weather was fine.

Prayer meeting was conducted at Aunt Martha Hampton's Sunday night.

Mrs. Rosa Ayers and daughter, Mrs. Lessie Davis, of Hayti visited the Ridge Sunday.

Joe Quinn is sick this week. We hope he will soon recover.

Judge McCarty, our circuit judge is getting along fine with his clearing here. He has 80 acres almost fenced and ready for the plow. F. M. Johnson is overseer for the judge. Mr. McCarty has built a nice bungalow on his farm.

F. M. Johnson and Louis Ayers went to Caruthersville Saturday on business.

Sam Campbell has a small store here now and invites the people to trade with him.

Monday, April 10, in the late afternoon we had quite a storm here, the cyclone coming to the ground. Jim Fields being in the path of the cyclone, it blew his six-room house off its blocks, and wrecked it in many places, it taking some 20 to 30 men most all day to get it back in shape. Trees were blown to the ground on a strip 60 to 80 yards wide. No one was hurt, however, and no one else damaged that we know of.

The U. F. A. met Monday night as usual. We think it is a fine thing and invite all farmers to join. —PAUL.

FROM CANADY.

There will be Sunday school at the Canady school house Sunday. Everybody come out and help us get started off.

The Canady school will close Friday, April 14.

Miss Wilbern Norton was the guest of Miss Grace Austin Sunday evening.

Lawrence Jolly and Miss Edna Pennicuff were married at Caruthersville Saturday afternoon. Mr. Jolly is a nice, energetic young man and with his bride, whose home is at Braggadocio, have the best of wishes from friends for a happy future.

Tommie Henley and Sam Handley also Henry Alford spent Sunday at Stubbtown. While there Mr. Alford rode some wild horses for a friend.

Miss Helen Walker was the guest of Miss Rose Knight recently.

Quite a number of the pupils of the Canady school, also the teachers, went picnicing Friday afternoon and all report a nice time.

Elmer Frankum and Clyde Watkins made a business trip to the State Line Saturday.

H. J. Reinhard has been attending to business in Chicago for several days. He will return tomorrow.

MISS ROBERTSON'S REWARD.

Miss Alice Robertson, Congresswoman from Oklahoma, is an amateur in politics. Miss Robertson, as an official, has voted and spoken according to the dictates of her convictions. Miss Robertson probably will not be re-elected.

This brief tale is not all to the bad. Other things being equal, she might have had a chance of re-election. But other things are not equal. Miss Robertson rode into congress from a normally Democratic district on the Republican tidal wave by a precarious margin of 200 votes. If Republican enthusiasm subsides in her district this year in proportion as it will have subsided over the rest of the country Miss Robertson's late majority, in the normal course of things, will be wiped out.

Nevertheless, Miss Robertson's defeat, if such it be, will be defeat of courage, the courage of broad judgment and independent action. She has against her two class interests—that of the women voters' organization and that of the bonus proponents.

Miss Robertson dared to be the representative of both sexes in Congress, notwithstanding that she was expected to be first a woman and second a Congressman. She dared to oppose the maternity bill, not because her heart was not in the cause of motherhood, but because she preferred to support motherhood without opposing principles which she regarded as fundamental to democracy. The penalty for this apostasy is loss of the support of the League of Women Voters.

The correspondent of the Post-Dispatch in Muskogee gives a brief account of Miss Robertson's ministrations to service men during the war. Her home became a haven for men in uniform and one or two chose to be wedded in her library. But she declined on principle to subscribe to the cash bonus, with the consequence that she has been widely denounced by veterans' organizations.

Such is the penalty meted out by organized minorities to lawmakers who, on principle, decline to do their biddings. The regret in Miss Robertson's case is that the political alignment in her district will not permit of an even fight.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Sheriff Robertson was associating in our city Wednesday, seeing that each end of "everybody's" automobile bore the correct 1922 numbering. It is out of style to whizz around in your car when it is not numbered up-to-date, and the Sheriff is endeavoring to keep everybody in good standing. Everybody who has not the correct numbering on his car is constantly looking backward, forward and sideways, expecting to see the sheriff or a deputy jump out from behind something and grab them in the grasp of the law, and this condition of nervousness makes autoing unsafe hence the sheriff's effort to get everybody fixed up so they can look ahead without feeling that the strong arm of the law is reaching out for the nap of their necks at every turn of the road.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, it is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. OUTLOOK FOR FRUIT FINE IN OZARK BELT

Trees Heavily Budded and Not Too Far Advanced.

The great Ozark Mountain fruit belt, which is one of the finest in the land, and in the crop of which Memphis has a double interest, has up to this time a magnificent prospect for the fruit crop this season. It is from there that Memphis gets her fruit at a reasonable price if it gets it at all on that basis, and it is the one article of diet that the doctors recommend for keeping the system in fine shape. Then the financiers of the city are interested in the crop there, for a large portion of the money from that crop comes to Memphis in one way or another.

One of the largest orchard men up there is Louis Erb, for many years a commission man on Front Street in Memphis. He has some 75,000 apple, peach and pear trees of bearing age, and there probably is not a better observer up there than Mr. Erb. For years he has been an authority for the outlook of that section. Early last season he stated that the crop for 1921 was ruined and no fruit came down out of the mountains last season. Now Mr. Erb writes Judge A. B. Pittman, whose wife was Miss Effie Erb, and who spends his summers on Mr. Erb's domain at Cedar Gap, Mo., that the outlook for this crop is all that could be expected. The trees are loaded with fruit buds and the crop is not even normally advanced for this season. That is one of the good signs, for when the crop is too far advanced early in the season it runs the risk of being killed by even a normal cold snap. With the crop late that danger is lessened.

For a generation the Ozarks have been famous for their fruit. The soil contains the elements for healthy growth in trees and the fruit, and in addition to that the vast array of minerals in the soil makes the fruit of that section surpass that of any other part of the world in its high coloring.—Commercial Appeal.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

The County Board of Equalization has been in session since Monday of this week.

There is work for that functionary to perform, if it makes a good job of its duties.

The present equalization, the work of its 1921 session, is most unequalizing. It is so both in the country and in the towns. Lots of property is valued for taxation far above what the owner could get for it in cash. Possibly in a few, a very few, instances, some is valued too low.

Many people have paid and are due to pay taxes on property that was raised in 1921 without giving notice by publication, as the law requires.

What does the present Board of Equalization propose to do about this unlawful taxation it has caused many to be called upon to pay?

Would it not be just and right to refund the difference in all such raises of taxation?

What was the assessed valuation of Pemiscot county property in 1920 when property was assessed at 50 per cent of its valuation?

We have been informed upon what SHOULD be reliable authority that it was $7,000,000.00. Is that correct?

If so, why, when the law was passed to increase the valuation to 100 per cent, was it raised to $22,000,000.00? Why, if property was to be raised 50 per cent, should it have been trebled?

The Missouri Herald is published in the interest of the people of Pemiscot county and it is in their interest these questions are asked.

If anyone can supply this information we shall be glad to publish it. All we want is an understanding. We don't want to make any misstatements. We do not want to do anyone an injustice. But the taxpayers of Pemiscot county are entitled to have this information, and it is the duty of this paper to furnish it if we can get it.

THE RIVER.

A great flood is coming down the upper Mississippi, the crest passing St. Louis being 33 feet. Much damage has been done, but the worst is about over. This rise will cause a second rise here, and will extend our high water condition far beyond what it would have been. Further south the Mississippi is yet menacing, and at several places the condition is reported serious. However, in this section there is no occasion for alarm, as the levee is safe and the second rise will not reach the stage of the one just passing.

BITTEN BY MAD DOG.

Ray, Jr., five-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Limbaugh, was bitten by a mad dog belonging to Jimmie Walker Friday of last week. The dog was killed and the head sent to a laboratory in St. Louis, the test showing the dog was affected with rabies. The dog of Mr. Walker had been bitten by another mad dog, which also bit several others. But it is thought the epidemic has been nipped in the bud and, if not, the order the city council has made to muzzle the dog will afford protection.

Dr. Limbaugh promptly secured the Pasteur Treatment for his little son, who is said not to show any dangerous symptoms.

C. F. Bishop of Pascola, while in town attending the Farmers' convention Saturday, paid The Missouri Herald a friendly call.
